

Which Courses Count towards the SWD Certification Renewal? (You need 20 Points EVERY five years)

**Please Note* You may only earn credit ONCE for a course!*

So think carefully before you take them all at once.

The Professional Development and Evaluations Department is: Melinda Bogart and Valerie Etienne-Leveille

Throughout the school year there will be varied opportunities to attend workshops or other learning opportunities that may count towards the 20 SWD points needed to renew your teaching certificate. The quick way to tell if the learning opportunity counts is to look at the Course Name which is a 7-Digit number. If the 7-Digit number is followed by an E, then the course counts.

There are also specific courses that have been designed to help you fulfill this requirement:

AVAILABLE THROUGH FDLRS BEESS Portal at <https://fl-pda.org>

The BEESS (Bureau of Exceptional Education and Student Services) of Florida Department of Education work through FDLRS to offer courses delivered through the PDA Portal (Professional Development Alternatives). Though all courses are completed online, some are Facilitated with specific start and end dates and some are completely independent and are available all year long.

Many of these courses DO count towards the SWD points needed for certification renewal. Others count towards general inservice points (you need a total of 120 to renew up to three areas of certification), and some don't count for points at all.

These courses are accessed at: <https://fl-pda.org> and are available to anyone.

To take advantage of these courses:

1. Go to <https://fl-pda.org>
2. Select either Facilitated or Independent
